

EuroMilano | Italy Real Estate

EuroMilano is a consultancy, promotion and real estate development company established in Milan in 1986. With a mission based on concrete ideas, the group has been working on the transformation of the city of Milan for over 30 years using strong core skills and common goals: to develop urban projects capable of positively improving the quality of life in the city, placing people at the center of their design and construction skills by providing converted, eco-sustainable areas, integrated with the surrounding urban fabric, equipped with green areas to promote social interaction whilst guaranteeing the safety of the city's inhabitants.

uniFLOW Online has simplified the process of achieving our goals, to improve sustainability and respect privacy, bringing full cost control and security in handling confidential documents.

Customer challenges

■ The organizational and design complexity together with a variety of needs meant a technological overhaul, to include the printing and scanning system, was needed. Previously different technologies from numerous suppliers coexisted with subsequent extensive waste. By identifying a single technological partner to rely on, EuroMilano pinpointed the main objectives - security of corporate documents, protection of privacy and environmental sustainability – and took on the idea of adopting latest generation technologies capable of reducing energy consumption, containing costs and raising quality of output.

Offered solution

■ Thanks to the experience and professional approach of Gruppo Gariboldi, Canon's certified Partner for the Lombardy region, EuroMilano has chosen uniFLOW Online to manage printing and scanning whilst greatly reducing waste and management costs as well as increasing user productivity. In addition to the My Print Anywhere functionality, the flexibility of the adopted solution allows specific users to scan and print documents from Google Drive, once they have securely authenticated via their personal PIN code. The uniFLOW Online Mobile Print & Scan App can also be used to send documents, which are stored in the uniFLOW Online cloud, from any location securely from their smartphone so that only the documents they actually need are printed upon returning to the office.

Benefits

■ The need for change at EuroMilano and aptitude of its staff meant uniFLOW Online was the best match. As a cloud-based solution which offers state-of-the-art technology, it was possible to implement it without additional burden on the internal IT infrastructure and resources. Accurate printing, copying and scanning activities which are tracked with extreme efficiency provide full cost control whilst allowing the identification of further savings. In addition to improving user productivity, the use of the App for mobile devices offers a cutting-edge tool for print management which reflects EuroMilano's Smart philosophy. A high level of security, thanks to the high standards offered by uniFLOW Online, completes the package.
